
Here is a half!

Because he's a foreigner

Before I met Mev,
I also had stereotypes about foreigners.

That day,
I was surprised and felt quite nice. I guess it's because what you did made me think that we had a better connection Ah~ I can't remember that day

When I was dating Mev a long time ago, one day and we went to eat Korean food.

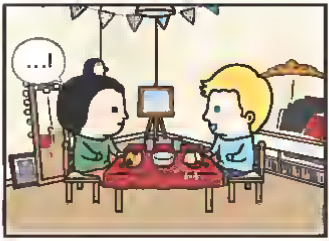
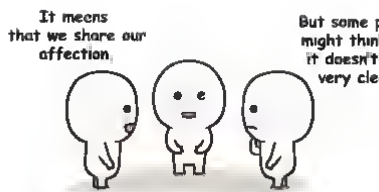
Nowdays,...



He eats my food tao well.
That's a problem.



.....so I thought Mev might be a little more sensitive about this style of eating because he's not Korean.

But then Mev took my bowl of left rice and ate it all up

I remember that it made me think that perhaps what I was thinking was just a prejudice.

Well, that's true. Haha. Anyway, the meal is really delicious. Isn't it?

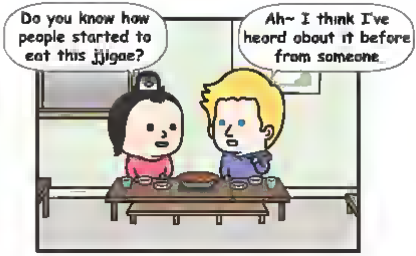
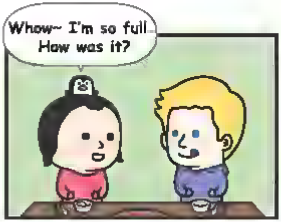
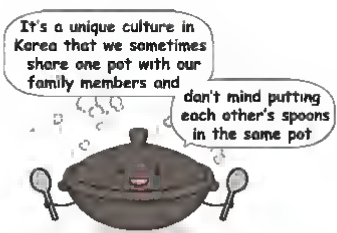
W... What is that?!?!



After we enjoyed the delicious jjigae, ...



One of them was about eating



It's a unique culture in Korea that we sometimes share one pot with our family members and don't mind putting each other's spoons in the same pot

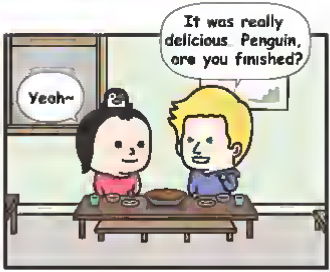
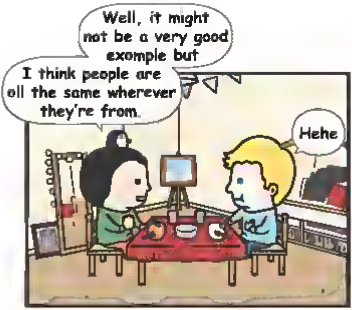
As I'd been hearing about this,



...I was about to suggest that we leave the restaurant.



Well, it might not be a very good example but I think people are all the same wherever they're from.
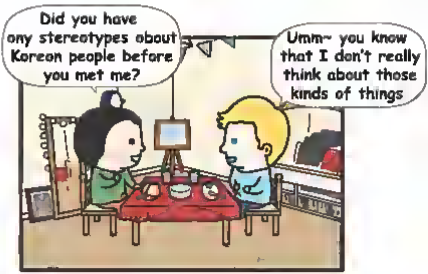
Hehe



Did you have any stereotypes about Korean people before you met me?
Umm~ you know that I don't really think about those kinds of things
